

Golf Champion and Philadelphia Partner Score Over Barnes and Loos—Private Clubs to Keep Boxing Alive

EVANS-MAXWELL BEAT 'PRO' GOLFERS

National Amateur Champion Stars in Extra Hole Victory Over Barnes and Loos.

Special Dispatch to The Sun.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 29.—In one of the most remarkable matches ever witnessed on a Philadelphia links, Chick Evans of Chicago, national amateur champion, and Norman H. Maxwell, open champion, and Norman H. Maxwell, open champion, defeated James M. Barnes, Western open champion, and Eddie Loos, professional at the Philadelphia Cricket Club, in a best ball four ball match at the Waltham Valley Country Club yesterday on the thirty-eighth.

The match was for the benefit of the Tobacco Fund for Soldiers, and more than $400 was collected from the gallery.

The morning round was all in favor of the professionals, and at the end of eighteen holes they had the seemingly overwhelming lead of six holes, but Evans and Maxwell rallied in the afternoon and gradually whittled the lead of their opponents until they squared the match on the thirty-sixth hole and emerged with a remarkable victory on the thirty-eighth.

In the morning round Evans was way off his game, but this was excusable since he had never seen the course before, and in addition he had motored down from Bethlehem, and for the first nine holes at least he had not got the stiffness out of his joints.

Trouble With Short Shots.

Maxwell drove well, but he had trouble with his short shots, and his putting on the whole, was not reliable. On the first nine holes Barnes did not play the golf of which he is capable, but he came back with a rush on the second nine, and with a 75 he had the lowest score of the round.

Loos played fine golf for the first nine holes, going out in 37, but coming in he fell off in his game and took 41 for the last nine.

Of the holes won by the professionals in the morning Loos was responsible for three and Barnes six, while Evans won two and Maxwell one. On the fourth and fifth holes Evans did not play the tenth hole Barnes had four 3s in succession and won all four holes.

In the afternoon Evans revealed his true form and he was ably assisted by his partner, George H. Evans took 58 strokes, but coming in he required only 23 for a score of 71. Of the holes won by his side he was responsible for four, while Maxwell won two and they halved three holes for a win.

All Drive Well.

Little fault could be found with the driving of any of the four players and the work of Evans with his iron in the afternoon was quite brilliant. There was nothing weak about his putting.

There were many thrilling incidents in the course of the match, but the most dramatic came on the thirty-sixth hole, when Maxwell sank a long down hill putt from the edge of the green for a three. When he accomplished this feat the gallery let out a shout of surprise, and Evans had heard blocks away, and the cheering broke forth anew when Barnes and Loos took four and the spectators realized that the professionals had now come back to play. Evans also ran down his putt for a three, but Maxwell put had already turned the trick. On the thirty-seventh hole Evans finished the gallery another thrill when he ran down an eight foot putt for a three and ended the match in favor of his side, Barnes getting 74 and Evans and Loos 75.

MAJOR HAMMOND TO REMAIN PRESIDENT

New York A. C. Will Probably Elect Him Unanimously for Third Term.

So successful has been his administration, and so much has he done for the club, that it is almost certain that Major Hammond will be unanimously re-elected president of the New York Athletic Club at its annual meeting. About the only thing that will keep the Major from being elected is a Major in the Medical Corps of the Army—now continuing at the helm of the Mercury Foot craft is stress of military duties or the necessity of leaving this country on military service.

At the annual dinner tendered by the club to the president, Major Hammond was asked if he would consent to serve a third term. He replied that he would gladly continue in his position, but that he was not sure that the club would elect him. He said that he was not sure that the club would elect him, but that he was not sure that the club would elect him.

Considerable excitement in boxing circles resulted yesterday from the report that Joe Whitman was likely to order sheriffs to interfere with boxing under the membership plan after November 15, and that the New York A. C. and the Crescent A. C. had decided to abandon glove contests after that date.

When Paul Pilgrim, who has charge of the boxing events at the Winged Foot Club, was asked last night if the organization had cut out boxing, he replied:

"The New York A. C. has not taken any such action, and so far as I know has no intention of abandoning boxing. We have a very interesting set of bouts arranged for November 24, the proceeds of which will be given up to the Winged Foot Library Fund. The question of doing away with boxing has not been brought before the club officials and is not likely to be."

The promoters of the various professional boxing clubs were questioned last night as to the likelihood of an increased number of rounds under the membership plan. They replied that they would not exceed the ten round limit set by the Fawcett law, and I am confident the advisability of reducing to six rounds.
